FISH

There's definitely something fishy about these puzzles!

Let's not carp on about it, though – take a perch in a comfortable plaice and see what you can do. Cod you be quick to fin-ish, or will you struggle to figure things trout?

DID YOU KNOW?

Anglerfish live so deep in the sea that there's no sunlight. They create their own light called "bioluminescence" – it helps them to see and also attracts prey.

WORD SEARCH

It can be tough to see fish lurking deep in murky waters, but can you find them in this grid? They are hidden horizontally, vertically or diagonally and may read forwards or backwards.

NUMBER TRIANGLE

DID YOU KNOW?

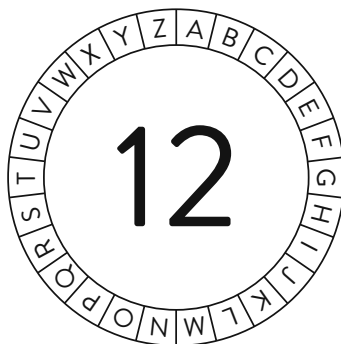

Ancient indigenous cultures of South America are often termed “Mesoamerican” cultures. Mesoamerican buildings, notably their square-stepped pyramids, remain in South America today.

Complete the square-stepped pyramid by adding a number to each block. Each number should be the sum of the numbers in the two squares below it. Add two squares that are next to each other, or subtract a number from one above it.

CIPHER

To get into this tree house you'll first need to solve the riddles below. Decode the questions by shifting the letter according to the number in the middle of the wheel. In this case, the shift is 12, so the letter I becomes W. Once you've decoded the questions you can solve the riddles.

VIKINGS

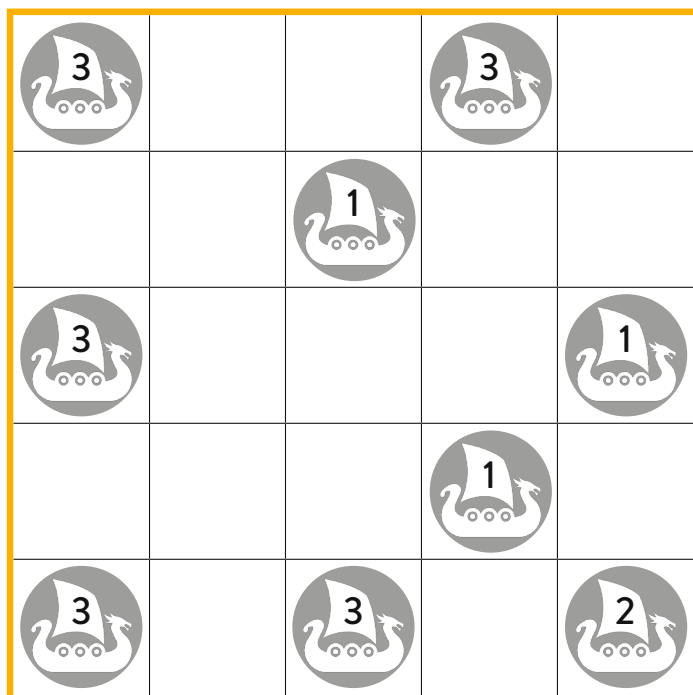

The Vikings were known for invading and eventually living in countries across Europe. Will you need to raid your mind to solve these Viking-related puzzles, or could you settle on the answers right away?

DID YOU KNOW?

Due to their great skill at sailing, Vikings found efficient, reliable routes between different countries' ports. People have continued to use these routes today.

CONNECTIONS

Draw horizontal and vertical lines between the ships.
The number in the ship tells you how many connections that ship should make.
