

ALAN, KING of the UNIVERSE

ONE DAY THE WORLD WILL BE MINE

HUGE BRAIN

World's most average side-kick

Some fears

TOM McLAUGHLIN

CLONE ALONE

SO MANY ALANS.

The trouble with taking over the universe, is it's awfully big.

And there's only me

And one of me. AI!

Yes, but you're just a sidekick...

"Do you want to play with your feather on a fishing rod, that always cheers you up."

"And not a very good one. If anything you reduce my Alan-ness..."

"So actually in scientific terms, I'm less Alan with you than I would be without you!"

"Dogs are just sooooo weird."

"What do you do when you see another cat?"

We give each other a respectful nod knowing we are the greatest creature to walk the planet.

"Another cat's bottom is no one's business but their own."

And you call us dogs weird. Now, back to cloning bottoms...

We're not cloning BOTTOMS, you fool! Give me that magazine!

There's a lab that clones animals. Imagine an entire room full of Alans...

...all working for ME. I could finally fire you.

Yeah...know what?

It's a good thing! Just imagine all that time you'll have to focus on your favourite hobby... Bottoms.

HURRAY!

Quick, let's go so I can be fired already.

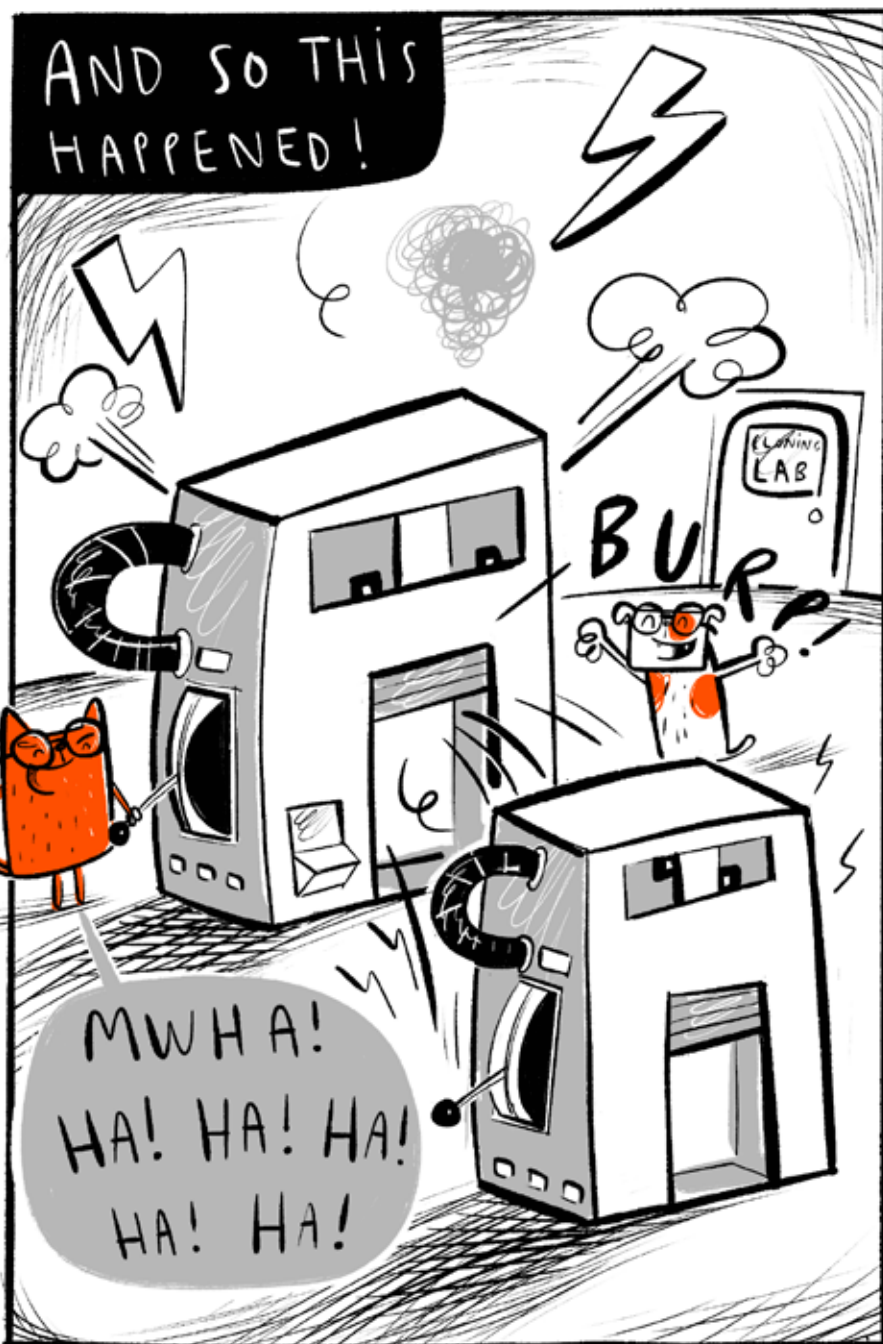

WAIT!

3 HOURS AND 538
SANDWICHES LATER

Wait!

Wasn't there another reason we got this machine.

I think I'm in a peanut butter fog...it's made my brain crunchy

we were going to clone you.

Oh yes...hic.

I'll get in and you hit the button. Just one copy of me!

Yes boss.

"how do you spell One?
One...zero zero that should do it...."

Morning today looks a great day to...

"It's working! I guess cats love feathers on fishing rods as much as we love bums."

Look a feathers.
let's chase it!

LOOK A FEATHER!

